NEW ENGLAND NOTABLES AT REDEDICATION RALLY IN FANEUIL HALL
Freedom's Torch Afloat as Nation Is Rededicated to the Bill of Rights

Bill of Rights Hailed Here at Faneuil Rally

New England holds high the torch of freedom, re-dedicating itself to those priceless heritages in the Bill of Rights, which document entered the 148th year of its ratification today.

Colorful tribute was paid in historic Faneuil Hall last night by state and civic dignitaries to the famous part of the Constitution dedicated to free worship, free speech, free press and the right of assembly.

The program in Boston was similar to that of hundreds of others in principal cities throughout the nation. Again and again prominent speakers extolled the fundamentals of American democracy and warned their audience to fight for individual liberty, lest alien philosophies get a foothold here.

Mayor Tobin protested against outrages nurtured in Europe; Dr. James G. Reardon, Commissioner of Education, warned his audience that indifference was America's most dangerous enemy and other noted speakers warmly praised William Randolph Hearst for his support of "Re-Dedication Day."

MANY SPEAKERS
Sparkling music was offered by the 45-piece drum and bugle corps, Mt. Carmel, East Boston unit, Boy Scouts of America, and at the close of the ceremonies the audience rose and sang "The Star

Doomed Hall 'Saved' by Storm

Despite the fact that Crocker hall at Framingham state teachers' college was slated to be torn down, they went ahead and repaired it after the September hurricane.

This was brought out in Attorney-General Paul A. Dever's investigation of hurricane contracts today in the testimony of James J. Reardon, state commissioner of education.

Reardon said that there were plans already drawn for the tearing down of the building, and for its replacement. He said, too, that the extensive hurricane repairs render these plans for a new building needless.

Martin F. O'Connor, president of Framingham state teachers' college, insisted that the repairs were necessary. The hurricane, he said, was "the straw that broke the camel's back and put an end to patching."

O'Connor accepted responsibility for suggesting that Crocker hall be brick veneered. The Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers' Association charges the brick veneering is an extravagance. O'Connor said he was advised it would not be more expensive than other types of work over a period of time. All of the other buildings on the campus are of brick construction, he pointed out.

British Ship Hits Mine in China Sea

MANILA, Dec. 16 (AP)—An SOS saying the British motorship Ridley had struck a "submerged projectile" in the China sea was followed by a message that the ship was proceeding toward Nagasaki under its own power. The Japanese ship Cheribon Maru was standing by.

The Ridley, a vegetable oil carrier of 3081 net tons, operates between New York and Yokohama. She normally carries a crew of 35 or 40.

U. S., German Tension Grows 'More Serious' Europe!

NEW YORK—Ambassador Kennedy Blasts Nazi persecution of Jews. (Page 6.)

PARIS—Daladier aides demand end of French Reds. (Page 16.)

HENDAYE—Alfonse may return as king of Spain. (Page 17.)

LONDON—Bank of England turns down credits to Germany. (Page 21.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—Diplomatic tension between the United States and Germany mounted today with hints that retaliatory measures might be invoked if American property rights in the Reich are jeopardized further by anti-Jewish and other confiscatory decrees.

This possibility came to light as the United States renewed its seven-month-old quest for adequate written assurances from Germany that American citizens will not be discriminated against because of their race or creed.

The request was so drawn as to cover the rights of both Catholics and Jews.

Summer Welles, acting Secretary of State, in making public the latest note delivered this week in Berlin, refused to rule out the question of retaliation which might arise both in the Jewish connection and in the Austrian debt situation.

Know Your Good Merchant Friends

The Evening American today carries more than 250 columns of advertising sponsored and promoted by the leading merchants of Boston.

This advertising represents the effort of Boston merchants who have gone to the far corners of the earth to get the finest merchandise for Boston and New England.

These merchants, through their advertising, "let their light shine" so that you, your family and your friends may shop these stores first by reading the Evening American and later by visiting these stores.

These merchants are citizens and taxpayers of Boston. They make Boston the great market place that it is.

They are "not" door to door peddlers. They are "not" fly-by-night merchants. You as a citizen should KNOW YOUR BOSTON MERCHANTS, shop with them and support this community.

71 State Berths Wait Hurley Nod

With charges of "horse-trading" still ringing in the ears of three members, the governor's council met today for action on Governor Hurley's appointments.

More nominations were expected to be made by the governor, but how many of the 71 state posts he would fill could not be anticipated as the councilors, a house divided by personal differences, assembled.

Today's were the governor's final batch of appointments, and he was seeking confirmation of many made last week.

Among the posts he was expected to fill, at least as far as nominations, were those of commissioner of corporations and taxation, a member of the Metropolitan District Commission, budget commissioner and director of fish and game.

Three Republican members of the council—Joseph B. Grossman of Quincy, Edgar F. Lindsay of Brockton and Eugene A. F. Burtlett of Somerville—were the men who came in for a tongue-lashing last night by Judge Kenneth D. Johnson of Milton.

"They are unfit for public office," asserted Judge Johnson at the Norfolk County Republican Club and the Milton Women's Republican Club.

"They are horse trading with the governor."

Ex-Circus Star Dies of Burns

Once upon a time, long ago, Mrs. Mary Carlisle, then Mary Pike, flew through the air, high above the crowds in Ringling Brothers' and other circus tents.

She was a trapeze artist—a calling in which keenness of eye is all that stands between life and death.

Today, Mrs. Carlisle, 73, her hand trembling with age, her eyesight dimmed, sought the air, high above the crowds in her Lynn home. It was dark, and she lit a match.

It dropped, igniting her clothing. A human torch, she fell, screaming, to the floor. She was dead when they got her to a hospital.

Timilty Cools Hub 'Hot Spots'

Their recent interlude of gay prosperous law-flouting at an end, more than 60 Boston night clubs and cafes were resigned today to toeing the mark set for them by Police Commissioner Timilty.

Unlike operators of horse betting pool rackets, the night spot proprietors couldn't "blow the town" when the commissioner came back from vacation, outraged by wide open conditions which obtained in his absence.

The night spot proprietors had to stay and take it.

And clearest evidence of his intended course in dealing with closing-time and drink-serving carelessness in the bright light districts was the presence of uniformed officers early today in downtown, Back Bay, South End, Roxbury and Charlestown dine and dance places.

SOOTHING MUSIC

All over Boston today were echoing the anguished groans of night spot managements accustomed, these past few weeks, to hearing their cash registers jingle well into the dawn.

But their walls and their frantic squawks to political friends were just soothing music to the ears of the late police commissioner.

And as a long forward step to putting law enforcement on a permanent basis, he was admittedly contemplating a drastic police department house-cleaning. In line for shifts they won't like or even for possible demotion are numerous higher-ups, responsible, the commissioner believes, for Boston's lid-off spree during his vacation.

POWERS EXTENDED

As a feature of his intended shakeup, the commissioner has in mind a regime under which his deputy superintendents will have extended powers and extended responsibilities, the Boston Evening American learned today.

If this plan is put into effect, police divisions of the city will be split up between Deputies Claiflin and Anderson.

Each will be directly responsible for his district.

Their present comparative obscurity in so-called paperwork jobs at headquarters will be at an end.

They'll be out on the job, in a

Suicide Climax of McKesson Probe:

Ex-Convict Drug Czar Kills Self

NEW YORK, Dec. 16—F. Donald Coster, president of McKesson & Robbins, Inc., whose real identity was disclosed as Philip Musica, an ex-convict who became head of the multi-million dollar corporation, shot and killed himself today at his home in Fairfield, Conn.

'Catfoot' Burglars In $300 Safe Break

"Catfooted" burglars took a rooftop and fire escape route to enter a Lowell street building today.

There they drilled a safe in the office of the New England Poultry Association, Inc., obtaining $300 in cash.

PERSHING AT TUCSON

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 16 (AP)—Gen. John J. Pershing feeling "very fine," returned today to this resort community where, last winter, he won a gallant battle with death.

The Department of Justice in Washington received information of the suicide over its private telegraph wires.

News that Coster-Musica had taken his own life came shortly after the United States attorney's office here had ordered his re-arrest and that of his two brothers now known as George E. Dietrich, assistant treasurer, and George Vernard, Canadian agent for the firm on charges of violating the Securities Act of 1934.

Coster-1938

Back in 1913 when the Musica family were involved in the collapse of their United States Hair Company, Philip's father, Antonio, tried to end his life.

Coster-Musica's suicide climaxed a week of dizzy developments, starting when it was discovered that the crude drugs department of McKesson & Robbins, under his direct supervision, had apparently built up fictitious assets of $18,000,000.

The man who lived down a criminal past of 25 years ago to become head of the great drug firm turned a pistol on himself as Chief of Police Arthur Bennett of Fairfield, Conn., was arriving at the Costers' big country home to take him into custody.

"As nearly as I could learn, he put a revolver to his head and pulled the trigger," Bennett said.

The fantastic story of the drug corporation swindle scaled new heights today when it was revealed that three officers of the company were members of the notorious Musica family of swindlers. They were:

F. Donald Coster, self-slain president of McKesson & Robbins, identified as Philip Musica; George Vernard, Canadian agent for the company, identified as George Musica.

George Dietrich, assistant treasurer and vice-president, identified as George Musica.

Later it was revealed that there is a fourth brother, Robert, who will be arrested. He is an employee of McKesson & Robbins Company.

Next, investigators hope to find Louise and Grace Musica, sisters of Philip, Arthur and George, who, like the male members of the family, disappeared in 1913 after Philip had taken the rap for a family swindle operated under the guise of a company dealing in the wholesale merchandising of human hair.

BROTHERS INVOLVED

After "Coster" was identified by his fingerprints as the former convict Musica whose accomplishments included swindling, acting as stool pigeon and disappearing, the investigators toyed with the idea that perhaps Musica's two brothers who "disappeared" in 1913 might not be far away.

Their suspicions were confirmed today.

Police records on "Vernard" show he was arrested in 1933 on a charge of felonious assault, but the case was dismissed. Vernard was fingerprinted at the time but following his release, demanded—

Coster Jekyll-Hyde No. 1

By GEORGE CARROLL

International News Service Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (INS)—America's No. 1 Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde for the year 1938—was without a contest—Philip M. Musica the drug "Ponzi" who killed himself today. The man was incredible. His story is more incredible still.

His heels and his fingers tripped him. It was his penchant for wearing high-heeled shoes that brought about his arrest a quarter century ago when he and his family were fleeing to South America after an alleged $2,000,000 swindle.

Now his fingerprints unmasked him, 25 years later, in another jam, where, as F. Donald Coster, president of the great drug house of McKesson & Robbins, he was meshed in criminal charges.

He started out with a prison sentence in 1909. But—not the least of the incidents in his story—his sentence was commuted a few months later by President William Howard Taft.

The day Taft signed that document, April 12, 1910, he unwittingly was sending forth a cunning fox to prey on American finance.

With a presidential commutation in his pocket, Musica—fleece-bank and business houses with a company that dealt in human hair, and did it on such a scale that 11 sets of lawyers fought over whatever assets he left.

As hired agent for a deputy attorney-general of New York state, procured and wrote with his own hand "affidavits" with which the state officials attempted to link prominent Americans to Holo Fasha, the French traitor, who was executed in 1919.

Spent nearly three years in the Tombs, where he played stool-pigeon in the murder of Harry King, Washington Market poultry king, in 1914.

This is the man who dropped his past, got himself into Who's Who with a new name and a fictitious new profession—doctor of medicine—and became ruler of McKesson & Robbins, a respectable $60,000,000 corporation which has been a leader in the nation's drug field for 105 years.

F. Donald Coster? A great, dominant figure in the nation's business. A man who floated tremendous bond issues.

A man who could borrow a million from the flintiest financier as one might borrow a cigarette. A yachtsman and quiet socialite and connoisseur of fine oil paintings.

But F. Donald Coster never existed. There was no such man. He just wasn't there.

It was Philip M. Musica, ex-convict

Dead was Winthrop H. Farnsworth, 64, Trapelo road, Waltham, a farmer and stock raiser.

Fred R. Niles, also a Waltham farmer, suffered severe head injuries and was near death today following the York crash.

Farnsworth is survived by his wife, Mrs. Phoebe Hayes Farnsworth. She said today that her husband and Niles were on their way to Ogunquit, Me., when their auto hit a soft shoulder and skidded off the highway.

'Human Torch' Woman Saved

Mrs. Mary Carlisle, 73-year-old occupant of a Lynn lodging house, made a human torch when she accidentally ignited her night clothing, was snatched from death today by the heroism of friends.

Hunt 'Phantom' Thief

Theft of $12,000 worth of diamonds from a jewelry salesman's automobile set police of Boston and Gloucester in quest of a "phantom thief" today.

The salesman who reported the theft is Irving Adler, of Winchester street, Brookline, employee of S.

Reisman Co., New York City jewelers.

Adler said the gems vanished during a trip from Gloucester and Boston, which included a five-minute stop in East Boston.

Continuing his journey, Adler reached Boston and parked his car in Franklin street, near Washington street. He opened the rear compartment of his car, but his leather case and the diamonds were missing.

Adler was utterly baffled by the apparent theft.

Kennedy Raps Nazi Persecution of Jews

Harshly assailing the German persecution of Jews, Boston's Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to Great Britain, revealed today in New York that he has brought back from London a workable plan for solution of Europe's refugee problem.

There must be "some inkling of the cooperation to be expected from Hitler," however, before a refugee plan can be launched, said the ambassador before leaving for Washington.

"I think it's terrible, the most terrible thing I ever heard of, and I will probably lose my job for saying it," declared Kennedy with regard to the Nazi persecutions. "You might also say that I am only sharing the sentiments of our President. Oh, how I would like to say a lot more!"

SEES WAR CLOUDS

Climorously acclaimed last night on his arrival in New York from London, the ambassador will lay before President Roosevelt the behind-the-scenes picture of the recent crisis which came within an ace of setting Europe aflame.

To the score of newspaper reporters who greeted him on shipboard, the ambassador dropped a sombre hint that war is still imminent in Europe despite the Munich pact.

"I am not optimistic on the outlook for peace," he said. "I can see where America will lose sadly if a war breaks out."

"But I don't think my lack of optimism is any reason for not trying for peace, because the other alternatives are not very inviting."

MAPS BOSTON VISIT

After a 24-hour stay in Washington, the ambassador said, he would return to New York and then visit Boston. On Monday or Tuesday he will leave for Palm Beach with his son, Jack. He will return to his post in Great Britain in February.

'Take the Stand'

Names sometimes echo like muffled drums through empty corridors, barred prison cells and in that little room, different from all others, where society exacts its toll for the supreme crime, murder . . . Sacco and Vanzetti, the Miller brothers, young Knutson—and as they so resound they repeat themselves here, as they will go on repeating themselves as long as records are kept of crime and criminals . . .

There is hardly a one in New England that did not, in some way, pass under the scrutiny of Dr. George Burgess Magrath, medical examiner in the northern district of Suffolk County for 23 years . . . A death march of murderers, to the sound of drums . . .

By GEORGE W. CLARKE

Bullet No. 3 they called it—and they wired a little tag to it and put it away . . .

A little hunk of lead, that's all it is, with six minute grooves ripped down its side in a crazy corkscrew. It's somewhere now in a drawer or filing cabinet—just a memento of a closed murder investigation.

Yet that little hunk of lead sealed the fate of Nicola Sacco and Bartholomew Vanzetti, sent them to the electric chair, and loosed a storm of passion through the world that rumbles still, and may break forth again, and yet again as long as men remember that there are those who say, and are ready to die for it, that the two were unjustly executed for a crime they did not commit . . .

Policemen died fighting rioters. Public officials lived in fear of death. Bombs shattered buildings in far corners of the globe. Givers of money trembled at the repercussions of the blast.

All because of a little hunk of lead . . .

Bullet No. 3 they called it when Dr. George Burgess Magrath, loaned to Norfolk and Plymouth counties for the occasion, dug it out of the back . . .

Dr. Magrath, the dead Alessandro Bernadelli, payroll guard for the Slater, Morrill Shaw Co. South Braintree, held it up to the light in the autopsy room, and observed:

"That's the one which killed him . . ."

So they put the tag on it, and it became the tiny keystone in the prosecution which sent the two radical agitators to their deaths.

LETHAL PELLET

That was the lethal pellet. That was the instrument of murder. That was the personification of the crime.

It's history, of course, what took place that spring day, April 15,

Britain, France Playing for Time --Prof. McKay

Prof. McKay, of the University of Chicago, declared today that the delay in the peace negotiations between France and England and Russia, was a "game of time."

The delay, he said, was a "game of time" played by the peace negotiators, who were waiting for the rise of Hitler.

Chamberlain and Daladier, he said, were playing for time, and they could expect no help from that quarter.

Daladier Aides Demand End of French Reds

PARIS, Dec. 15 (AP)—A group of French politicians, including several members of the Chamber of Deputies, today demanded an end to the Communist party.

A group of 40 French politicians, including several members of the Chamber of Deputies, today demanded an end to the Communist party.

TIMED TO BUDGET

The move came as Daladier was seeking to put France's 1940-41 budget before the Chamber of Deputies, which began its session today.

He succeeded in having the budget voted by the Chamber of Deputies, which began its session today.

Some of the group's demands included the elimination of the Communist party from French life, which would mean its assets would be seized, its members would be arrested and its leaders would be deported.

Most of the group's demands were aimed at the Communist party, which is the largest of the French political parties.

COMMUNISTS FLEW

The group's demands included the elimination of the Communist party from French life, which would mean its assets would be seized, its members would be arrested and its leaders would be deported.

Trade Pacts Hit By Textile Men

Textile men in the United States today hit the trade pacts between the United States and the United Kingdom, which would mean the elimination of the textile industry from the United States.

Suspicion Holds Up Action at Lima Parley

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 16 (AP) — Argentine suspicion of future United States foreign policy appeared today to be a strong factor in the Pan American conference controversy over a declaration against aggression.

Members of the Argentine delegation insist the United States should be considered a potential aggressor and they want a resolution to provide for defense against incursion by any nation.

DEFENSE PLAN

Consideration of a co-operative defense plan so far has been concerned mainly with the possibility of attack from nations outside the Americas and delegates have said they had to mind the danger as potential enemies of Europe.

The Argentines said they feared a change of administration in Washington might bring an end to neighbor policy. There was little indication of support for this view by other delegates.

One among their delegation said the United States was endorsing a Mexican-Argentine resolution against collection of government debts by force and contended this was an indication the United States might one day decide to take forceful action against a Latin American nation.

The Argentine delegation also was firmly resolved that no formal defense pact should be adopted by the convention. The United States has shown a willingness to forego its own wishes for a pact.

Secretary Hulse explained that

The Foreign Minister, Alfred D. Meyer, stated that the United States would be a participant in the summit by the President's personal participation. He spent the afternoon with a number of members of the staff.

Bank of England Refuses Credits To Aid Germany

LONDON, Dec. 15 (AP).—The Bank of England today refused to grant credits to Germany for the purpose of purchasing war materials. The bank's decision was based on the fact that the German government had not yet agreed to a loan of £100,000,000, which was the amount originally offered. The bank's refusal was a significant blow to the German war effort, as it deprived them of a major source of funds for purchasing arms and supplies from abroad.

SCHACHT PROPOSAL
The German government's proposal for a loan of £100,000,000 from the Bank of England was rejected. The bank's refusal was based on the fact that the German government had not yet agreed to a loan of £100,000,000, which was the amount originally offered. The bank's refusal was a significant blow to the German war effort, as it deprived them of a major source of funds for purchasing arms and supplies from abroad.

PLANS OUTLINED
Schacht outlined a plan for a trade policy program. The plan was based on the fact that the German government had not yet agreed to a loan of £100,000,000, which was the amount originally offered. The bank's refusal was a significant blow to the German war effort, as it deprived them of a major source of funds for purchasing arms and supplies from abroad.

1. An agreement between Britain and Germany on a system of trade in southeastern Europe, giving the British a proportionate share of the trade in that area.
2. An understanding permitting Germany to make trade agreements with the former enemies, giving the British priority in securing raw materials from these sources.

Bill of Rights Lauded at Huge Re-Dedication

Special Feature: The historic reaffirmation of the Bill of Rights at the American Liberty Foundation's annual dinner. Other featured speakers included:

LT GEN. JOHN B. JENNINGS, 1st Maj. for secretary of the Massachusetts State Federation of Labor-Communist Front; Louis of the Boston Chapter, Boy Scouts of America; Samuel Kalesky, president of the American Jewish Congress; New England director; Mrs. Pauline Revere Auchman, direct descendant of the patriot and president of the Sons and Daughters of American Liberty; LT COL. JOHN MILLIKEN, chief of staff U. S. Army First Corps Area; John J. Maguire, state commander of the American Legion; and Martin H. Rice, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Commissioner Reardon, general chairman, said: "Education appraises the true value of the freedom of the press, that sentinel of the state, that detector of public imposture. We know that without it the liberty of the subject and the security of our country would sink into a common grave."

"Public opinion has been fearlessly stated by the press of the nation in order to clarify issues of paramount importance and to purify the waters of current knowledge."

SHARP CRITICISM

LT GEN. KENNEDY, in his address, said:

"Now is the time for we Americans to challenge every subversive act. Now is the time for we Americans to take the offensive so that we may protect our priceless rights."

Mayor Tobin said:

"It is well for us to remind ourselves that a scattered handful of colonists, by their supreme courage and faith, gained for the United States the religious, political and civil freedom which has been the foundation on which this great democracy was built."

"The hours which we are called upon to combat, present themselves not, perhaps, as between Communism, Fascism or Nazism but as between extremism and moderation; as between force and consent."

Samuel Kalesky, president of the American Jewish Congress, said:

"When we see what is happening in other countries, in Nazi Germany where the Jew is being persecuted because of both religion and blood, and of the Catholic and Protestant because of their refusal to submit their religious conscience to state domination, and in Communist Russia, we appreciate and value more and more the blessings of the liberty that we enjoy in our form of government."

BOY SCOUTS' MEET

Boy Scouts in the audience were called upon to recite the Scout Oath and Law.

"Training for Americanism should begin in the home. We must inculcate in youth early the meaning of the great heritage which belongs to every American."

And LT GEN. JENNINGS, in his address, said:

FIRE SWEEPS BLOCK

Fire swept through the block today, but the damage was not too great. The fire, which started in a store, spread to the building next door, but was quickly controlled by the fire department.

BETTY ALDEN

On Beacon Hill

B. BETTY ALDEN

JANE CHEEVER, one of the season's most vivacious and popular debuts, will share the social spotlight this evening at the Girls Thorsdike, who was one of Sally Clark's bridesmaids last week, and Joan Lathrop, one of the new Junior League permanent members. . . . The girls are making their joint debut at a ball for over a thousand guests in the Lewis XIV Ballroom of the Hotel Somerset. . . . Before the ball they will help their parents entertain about 150 young people at a dinner party in the new Princess Ballroom. . . . Parents of the debuts are Mr. and Mrs. David Cheever of Woblesley, Mrs. Warren Lathrop of Cambridge and Dr. and Mrs. Augustus Thorsdike, Jr. of Chestnut Hill.

Pre-View Santa Claus Party

SANTA CLAUS put on a little pre-view party at the Children's and Infant's Hospitals yesterday afternoon, where he presided over the annual Christmas tea for doctors and nurses. . . . Hostesses at the festivities were members of the ladies boards of the two hospitals. . . . A huge Christmas tree was laden with packages containing a simple little gift for each doctor and nurse, and the long tea table was decorated with a silver tree adorned with shiny green balls. . . .

Mrs. William Bruce Pratt, chairman of the party, did her most efficient job in seeing that everything ran smoothly. Her attractive wing-wed dress adorned by several ropes of pearls and a small gray turban. Joe Emery, wearing a pink plaid waist-length jacket, had pulled one of the chairs at the same time, and the two were the first to sit. Then Mrs. F. W. Wren, wife of Bruce, came in, and the party continued. The infants were taken care of by Mrs. M. M. Moore, Mrs. H. B. Porter, Mrs. C. E. Porter, Mrs. J. M. Porter and Mrs. R. E. H. W. Jr. were among the first to join in the fun.

Harvardians Spoof Celebrities

SUCH LITERARY celebrities as Alexander Winton, George Jean Nathan and Maxwell Anderson are given a good rubbing by Harvardians in the Harvard Dramatic Club production of "The Critic," which opened last evening at the Peabody Playhouse.

The play took a witty turn, based in Southern comedy, they be soothed, as a Southern humor, sensibility and it seems as if be practicing a new school. . . . Percy Long, who has played a number of H. D. characters, was in the center with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Long, the latter wearing a black gown printed with a conventional pattern. . . . Mrs. Robert Farringham was also in the cast, and Cecelia Ward, one of the prettiest of the evening, who played Sue Story with the usual ring ladies. . . . John Keller, who has seen to it up with a skilful, airy, expressive, happy, ass, in the end of our time by breaking into a dance, every day, and a dance between two young girls. . . . So the H. D. C. boys do not seem to be getting parts in their shows. Rather girls were taking the place of the old femininity to the east and the west, taking their dancing, covered themselves with glory. . . . Among them are Dorothy Linton, Louise Beane, Eleanor Spencer, Agnes Lewis, Frances, the Ring, Goodman and Mary Cobb.

FRIED CLAMS

"You should wait until Christmas, Johnnie." So says 6-year-old Phillip Doherty, of Dorchester, to brother John, 3, who wandered away from girl attendant to pay visit to Santa Claus. Little Johnnie wound up in Staton 11. Here he's shown with Phillip

-tars Robert Taylor, Jeanette MacDonald and Paul Mumford as they released for huge liberation Day program that thrilled us last night

Pick them out children. What do you like? Well, husky little Earl McLean seems to be looking forward to the Hearst All America Amateur Boxing show of a few years hence, because this punching bag at Jordan's looks pretty good to him. In center, the marionette show holds quite a bit of interest for these three youngsters, and perhaps they're wondering what makes them

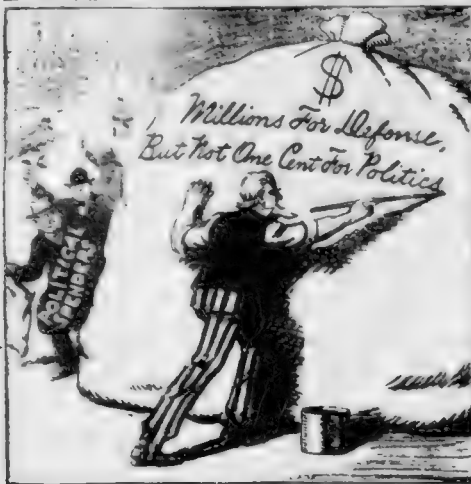

To You, You and You

Merry Christmas is the wish expressed here by Rosemary Lane as she looks through bouquets of fern and holly for her personal greeting to you move. At right, little 3-year-old Stella Cefalo is a bit tiny for skis, so the next best thing for her is a sleigh. "Gee, won't I have fun," she's thinking as she picks out her choice. And say, Stella, what's that you have under your arm? By the way, where's Santa Claus? Doesn't he play a part here?

EARMARK IT!

The Editor Says:—Nelson Harding's cartoon is timely and important. The American people as he so well indicates are willing to spend millions for military defenses that will assure the country's peace and security.

But the American people are NOT willing to have the responsibility of the excuse for more jump sum spending for military defense without responsibility to either Congress or the people.

During the campaign of men and women from this country to the Peace Conference, the President's policy was not changed since the November elections, when the Republican government were turned out in November.

AMBULANCE CHASING must receive the immediate attention of the Legislature, wisely advised Attorney F. W. O'Brien, who is the Bar Association secretary.

Mr. O'Brien's proposals to end this traffic jam were submitted to the Senate and Representatives two months ago by the Association. NO ACTION WAS TAKEN. He has since been making suggestions.

When Mr. O'Brien and the Bar Association met last week to discuss their next effort.

They have no more important work than the problem of saving persons from serious and possibly fatal accidents by the failure of the Legislature to take action on the suggestions.

NO LENIENCY! We refer to the Federal Government's policy of leniency toward the lawless. This was the feeling of the people.

The Government is not to be lenient to the point of making the lawless feel that they are not being punished. A lenient policy is a dangerous one.

The Government could not use a little of this lenient policy to make the lawless feel that they are not being punished.

Some of the common sense not just in the system but in the law. For the imprisonment of Americans for the same crime as five dollars and in the other hand, the lawless feel that they are not being punished.

CHRISTMAS CARDS do not improve with age. The 40th anniversary of the first Christmas card is celebrated.

Christmas cards have been many and varied since the first Christmas card was sent. It has been a century ago, Santa Claus has been the most popular character in the world. He has been the most popular character in the world.

He has been the most popular character in the world. He has been the most popular character in the world. He has been the most popular character in the world.

He has been the most popular character in the world. He has been the most popular character in the world. He has been the most popular character in the world.

They are like a boy of 16. They are like a boy of 16. They are like a boy of 16.

Glacier Priest Comes Home

By EDWIN C. HILL

THOMAS S. HILL, a priest of the Holy Cross, who has been in Alaska for the last 14 months, has just returned to his home in the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes.

A great part of his life and his work has been in the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes. He has been a priest of the Holy Cross for 14 months.

For 12 years he has been in the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes. He has been a priest of the Holy Cross for 12 years.

In his priestly life in the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes, he has been a priest of the Holy Cross for 12 years. He has been a priest of the Holy Cross for 12 years.

adventures as this "Priest of the Volcanoes and the Glaciers," whose passion for knowledge takes him to the smoking bowls of volcanoes that have blown off their snow-capped heads, and to age-old glaciers creeping forever to the waiting sea.

Placid in build, with a frank face, chiseled features, and keen brown eyes, Father Hubbard offers his sacred offices in the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes.

In the heart of Alaska, in the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes, he has a small mission. He has a small mission. He has a small mission.

above the desert of Sahara eight thousand miles away. Millions of birds were killed as was all wild life for many miles around.

FATHER HUBBARD may tell again the story of how he climbed to the smoking summit of Katmai, reaching upon the brink of a thousand-foot mountain and gazed fearfully down into the awful chasm.

Father Hubbard is a priest of the Holy Cross. He has been a priest of the Holy Cross for 12 years. He has been a priest of the Holy Cross for 12 years.

Boston After Dark

By GEORGE HOLLAND

HERE IS THE FIRST BIG NEW DEAL of the Saltonstall administration . . . Chief Justice Wilfred J. Bolster of the Municipal Court will begin his vacation June 1 . . .

The vacation will end August 31 . . . On September 1, Chief Justice Bolster will be retired, with 70 fruitful years behind him . . . Associate Justice F. Delano Putnam will then succeed to the presiding chair of the Municipal bench . . . But the lower court will not be without a Bolster . . . The retiring Chief Justice's son will take the chair vacated by Associate Justice Putnam . . .

In the daily Governor Holley's . . . a charter to effect his . . . a . . . to his administration . . . The . . . to pass . . .

Niel Coward's most popular torch song "Mad About the Boys," will be a part of the score of the British author-composer's new show "Set To Music" when it comes to the Shubert Theater December 26 . . . This number has been a favorite of Coward's since he wrote it five years ago . . . It had a brisk sale for a time, but never reached the "hit" class . . . Today a 72 page Boston American marks a weekday record . . . Mayor and Mrs. Maurice J. Tobin will leave today for Washington to be guests tomorrow night at the annual Gridiron Club show . . . Eldon Auker's coming to the Red Sox was foretold in this space Sunday . . . a repetition of the news printed here last May . . . And do not be surprised if Rosie Lawson joins the bolstered (assisted) of ideas Red Sox pitching staff . . .

Gets Bid for Book

In predicting Associate Justice Putnam's accession to the chief job in the Municipal Court, your reporter neglected to mention that he is Sinclair Weeks' brother-in-law.

George W. Clarke, this paper's inspired reporter, has received an offer from a Boston publishing firm to write a volume on the career of the lamented George Burgess Magrath . . . Ex-Governor Clarke will have important news (if he'll talk) when he returns from Washington Monday . . . Sonja Henie, blonde delight from amorphousland, can turn off a smile like the way you work a faucet, according to the camera boys . . . The shaking-queen holds a smile-pace until the fluid bulbs explode, and immediately returns to normal . . .

Four pieces only . . . a xylophone, clarinet, guitar and bass fiddle with a youngster named Eddie Dunn dressing from the xylophone . . . Eddie De Lange, from Jack Morris' Brooklyn to New York, writes that a new tune called "Lemon" written by Vincent Santovino, a Holly Grove graduate, is headed for best seller rating . . . The Boston boy wrote both words and music . . . There's a musician at the Penthouse who could sell anything, even stocks . . . His name is Johnny De Vant . . . He's got this thing of four elementary books of abracadabra . . . But the one of abracadabra, which is something to listen to . . . If he be present when the Boston American Christmas Bazaar Fund gets a boost Sunday night at the Penthouse, and about the other stars, including Sonja Henie, who will be present—please consult other pages of today's paper . . . Have you remembered to send in your contribution to the Bazaar Fund? A few hundred dollars cleared through the column if you wish, will take the gloom out of a frosty many on Merry Christmas.

Much Ado About Ringing of Bells

You just crossed it. Joseph's... pleasure place, and how would you like to be awakened from a peaceful sleep, and then, downstairs, find those merry tinklers ringing your doorbell?

It proved to be no a moment's warning. However, when a telephone operator called Joseph for his station, today, and said that he had to be at an address on Broadway street, Brighton.

Joseph's friends, (Mrs. and Mr. Joseph), Frank, Charles and Charles, immediately called on him, but they found that he had left the 3rd in a number out of his town, explained.

An interested gentleman said he had been looking for him, for some time, even to the point of identifying himself as a friend, but he had left the telephone at once off the hook.

ELSIE ROBINSON writes from the woman's viewpoint, discusses everyday affairs and problems regularly in the Boston American.

Political News Likely Behind Stock Upturn

By LEWIS HANEY

(Professor of Economics, New York University)
NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—The stock market's recent upturn may be the result of a long waiting game, but it is likely that political news, from Washington that a vigorous, stimulating spell is planned in the President's new session.

But the stock market has been fluctuating since the election, because of fear that the new administration in business will be a "letting up" and not the "new vigor" that has been promised. The market is now in a state of uncertainty, waiting for the President's new session to begin.

Textile Trade Belies Reports

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
Financial Editor

Current reports from woolen and worsted goods centers supply an admirable lesson in the folly of taking headlines at their face value.

In the past week, headlines have been full of reports that the textile industry is in a state of panic. The reports have been so alarming that many investors have sold their textile stocks. But the reality is quite different.

The textile industry is not in a state of panic. It is in a state of uncertainty, waiting for the President's new session to begin. The market is now in a state of uncertainty, waiting for the President's new session to begin.

of October—and offerings may be quite large on balance. But if the outlook for industry is as good as action indicates buyers should have enough courage and persist to keep on the job until they are absorbed.

Not long ago, I saw a list of the most important textile companies in the industry. The list was long, and it included many of the names that are now being mentioned in the headlines.

The fact is that the textile industry is not in a state of panic. It is in a state of uncertainty, waiting for the President's new session to begin. The market is now in a state of uncertainty, waiting for the President's new session to begin.

Increase Shown In Gift Buying

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—Stimulus in the gift buying season is shown by a sharp increase in the sale of gift certificates. The volume of gift certificates sold has increased by 10 percent over the same period last year.

The increase in gift buying is a sign of confidence in the economy. It shows that consumers are willing to spend more money on gifts, even though the economy is still in a state of uncertainty.

The gift buying season is expected to continue for several more weeks. The volume of gift certificates sold is expected to increase further.

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 10 (AP).— "I feel mighty fine about being traded to the Detroit Tigers. Pinks Higgins, third baseman for the Boston Red Sox for the past two years, said today.

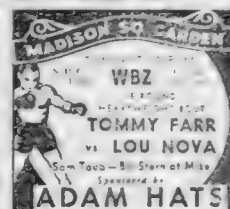

"If I had to be traded anywhere, I'm sure I'd rather go to Detroit than any other team.

"I'm happy about the change because I always used to be a fan and I know I'm going to be a player in a good line of ball there, the kind the fans admire.

"And I know I'll get a good deal more from the Detroit manager than I did here. I don't have a doubt in my mind that he'll give me a good chance to show what I'm capable of. I'm sure I'll be a good player for him."

Sox Taking Long Gamble

The Red Sox will have the "misery" in the event that their replacements for "Pinks" Higgins and Ben Chapman fail to measure up to expectation. . . . There is no question but that the three new hitters, Calhoun, Zucker and Wade, will round out a formidable hitting corps for the franchise. . . . At the end of the first round of the Miami $10,000 open, Harold "Frog" MacSpaden, Winchester, was ten strokes up on Sam Sneed. . . . President Lieb and Secretary John Quinn were all smiles when they arrived at National League Field this morning. . . . Brimsek Sensation As Bruins Win, 1-0

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 16 (INS)—In the best exhibition of net-minding seen here this season, Frankie Brimsek staged his fourth shutout of the season, when Boston Bruins blanked the Canadiens, 1 to 0, in a spectacular National Hockey League game. It was the Hub city team's fifth straight win.

Musical Scores Gloss Sonja Show

SONJA HENIE WITH BROTHER LIEF

By WALTER KILEY

Sonja Henie is refreshingly honest when she gives due credit for the success of her "Hollywood Ice Revue" to the beautiful execution of the widely varied musical scores.

Jack Pfeiffer, an East Side New Yorker by birth, and a top talent by virtue of his connections with the Broadway show-business, is the man who has been the musical backbone of the "Hollywood Ice

Revue" since its inception.

With little practice or rehearsal,

these Boston boys have entered immediately into the ice skating arena and with top results.

There is a big difference, he says, between the ordinary hallet done on foot on the stage and skating on ice.

The Russian Ball, for instance, varies little from day to day. The skis are always the same size, the steps routine.

But there are so many conditions which a skater must watch for in ice skating. There may be hard or soft ice, which affects the timing. The arenas are all different sizes. The exits are never the same. It means that the music must be varied to meet these ever changing conditions.

Auker, Galehouse Will Help Sox
Now Have Chance To Beat Yankees

By JACK CONWAY

ELDON AUKER AND Dennis Galehouse, pitchers acquired by the Red Sox in deals with the Tigers and Indians, give Tom Yawkey's club the strength it needed to battle the Yankees for the American League pennant next year. Without additional flinging strength, the Sox even with their terrific batting power could not hope to finish first in the American League pennant race.

Jake Wade, another pitcher who comes to the Sox as part of the deal that sends Pinky Higgins to Cleveland, is also expected to be of value to Yawkey's team. Wade has made quite a reputation as a relief hurler, and he will be able to save many games during the course of a season.

Jack Wilson, Emerson Dickman, Jim Bagby, "Lefty" Grove and Fritz Ostermueller are the other Sox pitchers who will report for spring practice.

Eddie Collins has always contended that pitching is 60 per cent of the success of any ball club. Rogers Hornsby once gave pitchers the credit for 80 per cent of the success of a championship team.

The collapse of "Lefty" Grove last season made it more imperative than ever for the Sox to get pitching strength. Its terrific batting power was partly lost due to the ineffectiveness of its flingers.

Other than for pitchers and catchers the Sox were stronger than the Yankees last season. Ruffing, Gomez and Pearson in the box and Dickey behind the bat gave the Yankees an edge over the Sox that enabled them to win the pennant.

It will be a different story next season when the Sox may be able to match pitching staffs with the Yankees. Dickey will still give the Yankees the edge in the catching department, but taking the Sox as a unit they will at least be the equal of the Yankees. The element of luck may then decide the pennant winner.

Tabor to Take Higgins' Place

JIM TABOR WILL take Pinky Higgins' position at third base in the Red Sox lineup. Tabor displayed considerable ability in the games in which he participated last season. He is young, a good fielder, and possesses batting power.

Boston and New England fans regret it was necessary for the Sox to part with Higgins in order to get Auker and Wade, but they realize that the deal was to the advantage of the Sox.

The previous trade that gave the Sox Dennis Galehouse in return for Ben Chapman was also helpful to the Sox pitching department.

Joe Cronin is of the opinion the Sox still possess sufficient power even with Chapman and Higgins out of their lineup. The team will now not have to get as many runs to win as their pitching is sure to be better.

I look for Wilson, Emerson, Bagby and Ostermueller to show improved pitching next season.

"Lefty" Grove is still a Red Sox problem. His age and the condition of his arm are against him, but he may be able to come back for ten to twelve victories during the season. Yawkey and Collins are of the opinion Grove will still be of value to the Sox.

The two deals have naturally put new fire into the Sox, and will tend to create additional interest in the team.

One must give Tom Yawkey, Eddie Collins and Joe Cronin credit for trying to build up a winner here.

10 Classes On Amerk Pure Show

The Christmas spirit of "Give and Receive" will be prevalent among the groups of New England amateur boxers in the opening try-out tourney of the annual Diamond Belt championships, sponsored by the Irish American A. A. which will get under way at the Boston Arena Monday night.

Claym milt artists from all sections of New England will swap punches in this special boxing presentation.

There will be bouts in 10 classes—eight groups for the open performers in all championship weights from flyweight to heavyweight and two divisions of novices at 147 pounds and heavyweights.

The winners of next week's try-out in addition to those of Dec. 26, Jan. 2 and Jan. 23 will battle for Diamond Belt titles in the grand finals of the tournament, scheduled for January 26 at the Arena.

Yesterday's mail brought along the blanks of Ray Fournier, slugging 118-pounder from Manchester, N. H.; Leo DuImaine of Milbury, the Golden Gloves featherweight champion; John Linde of Fitchburg and James Pinckney, Boston, both in the 126 pounds class; Al Priolelli, Leominster, in the 135; Francis Thibodeau, Fitchburg, in the 147 open and Tony Morriett, Worcester, in the 147 novice.

Rip Collins Due For Bench Duty

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cubs insist they'll start the season with Phil Cavarretta back on first base instead of Rip Collins, but how about that .239 batting average Phil had last year?

The Cubs, incidentally, were willing to give the Cardinals just about everything but Wrigley Field and Gabby Hartnett for Johnny Mize, Ducky Medwick, Enos Slaughter or Don Padgett. But Brackley Rickey said strictly no-dice. For which St. Louis fans should hand Branch a vote of thanks.

Ripper Collins

Still stringing with the underdog, this corner likes Lou Nova to trip Tommy Farr tonight, despite those 7-5 odds. Although Lou still has plenty to learn about defense—especially against anybody tossing left hooks—his own right-hand shots would turn the trick. Doc Parrish, the year's No. 1 trotting horse driver, tabs his Peter Astra as the 39 Hambletonian winner. Those who've looked him over say young Selvin Walton, a wellerweight out of Tyler, Tex., now fighting on the Florida circuit, will be heard from.

The National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress sent Monty Stratton a ball autographed: "Best wishes for speedy recovery—from the 400,000 semi-pros." Bob Harlow is ringing the bell with his Pinehurst (N. C.) Advocate. Latest edition discloses that Clayton Heafner, the new golf "find" down that-a-way, was only "discovered" by the boys way back in 1934, when he turned in a mere 79-49-68-68-47 for five straight rounds... and that's hitting the jackpot, even on a Tom Thumb course.

LOWELL FIVE WINS

LOWELL, Dec. 16 (AP)—A last-minute rally gave Lowell Textile's basketball team a 25 to 22 victory over Colby, after Lowell had trailed all the way.

BEWILDERMENT—French soldiers gaze upon U. S. football players, apparently figuring they are "slightly teched." Our boys, on the other hand, pity the French for being in uniform when they could be having fun playing football. Picture was taken at Saint Germain en Laye, near Paris.

getting "Buddy" Hassett, Johnny Outlaw and Fred Frankhouse from the Dodgers in exchange for Ira Hutchinson, Gene Moore and Joe Strip, today finds itself up to its neck in negotiations with the Pirates.

The Sox could have done business with the Chicago White Sox on a McNair for "Boze" Berger basis any time since last Monday.

CONSIDER MACK OFFER
That transaction wasn't closed, simply because Messrs. Yawkey, Collins and Cronin couldn't make up their minds whether to take the Windy City infidel or accept a Connie Mack offer of a pitcher for "Booby."

Since pulling off the deal with the Tigers yesterday, however, the Fenway men are inclined to take an infidel rather than a pitcher for Eric.

For Detroit's refusal to give up any of its infielders to the Sox left as the natives shy of reserves in that department, if McNair is accepted.

Right now Tommy Carey, obtained from the Browns for Johnny Maxmum and Tim Irwin, the inexperienced infielder, acquired in the deal with the Indians, are the only other players who could be called upon to fill in for Joe Cronin, Bobby Dwyer or Tony Jim Tabor, who is recovering from a leg injury.

All of which makes it appear virtually certain that Berger, a tried and true big league performer at second, third or short, will be accepted for McNair.

With the completion of the Pirate deal, Quinn may do a little talking, if nothing more, to or about Al Simmons.

When it leaked out that the Senators were determined to get rid of old "Long Pants" Eob said he wasn't interested.

He's not so positive about it today.

RETAINS HITTING EYE

He's heard that "Bucket-foot," while getting by, slowing up and all that, can still mash that old potato, and if there's anything the Eob would rather have than one hefty potato masher, it's two such.

Simmons, of course, might have a greatly exaggerated idea as to his worth. He might remember it wasn't so long ago that he was drawing down $33,333 1/3 a season and forget he is no longer that kind of a player.

Should he be reasonable in his demands and show any desire to become a Boston National League, he'd probably receive a very attentive hearing and possibly a job.

Rawlings

Signed by Royals

MONTREAL, Dec. 16 (AP)—Burling Grimes, new manager of the Montreal Royals of the International Baseball League, announced the appointment of Red Rawlings, former major league infielder with the Boston Braves and the Boston Red Sox, as coach of the club.

which comes with hereditary health and outdoor youth. So she is a commercial trouper who bows her neck to promotional needs and moves on a social level with her barnstorming mates. She and 40-odd girls of the Ice Follies receive a proportionate cut of the gate for their skill, but not so much as to fail to feel scandalized that Sonja averages $12,000 a Boston performance. And why not? Sonja draws it.

The answer between the turnstile lure of the two girls is their difference in reputation—reputation which has built the Henie name through repetitious printings in the world press, seasons of cunningly guided campaigns, a life devoted to technical perfection, the cultivation of useful contacts and, finally, the finely timed arrival in Hollywood ("One in a Million," "Thin Ice," "Happy Landings," "My Lucky Star.") A career, in short, made since babyhood. And today, at 25, Sonja is No. 1 cinema and carnival boxoffice, with two-thirds of a million in the bank, a peerage from the Norwegian King and the world's most eligible blonde.

It is possible that Evelyn Chandler, with the same artful manipulation and early training, might have carved a career of riches and reputation as well as Sonja under her shrewd parental direction. Though to be sure Eve was born an American, and hence is handicapped by the aura of imagination and foreign piquancy with which we like to adorn visiting virtuosi.

EVERYONE WENT STRAIGHT FROM SCHOOL to become a paid performer. She had been skating for fun (originally to cure her tendency toward upturned toes) and was surprised to learn that people paid to watch such frolic. But until Sonja turned professional three years ago she had toured the world with her family and private tutors, living opulently on the cult and unable to afford early vocational offers because she was already living beyond the professional scale as an amateur.

Ten times lady skate champion of the world, thrice No. 1 in the Olympic single—life a round of travel, courtesy, adventure and wealth beyond the dreams of any other athlete of her age and sex. Paris modistes lured her doorstep with satin gifts. Rink promoters explored her by cable. The world's illustrated journals published glimpses of her divine form. Spotlights in London, music in Vienna, St. Moritz in deep winter, the Bois de Boulogne in April, the Italian Lido in July. But as she said in her first Boston press conference, "No life-life! Too busy."

At last, if Evelyn Chandler is short on riches and commercial grace which goes with being Fortuna's favorite blonde and a million dollars worth of girl, she has "life-life," having married the Brooklyn boy who 10 years ago became her first pair-partner. She is Mrs. Bruce Mopes. If the Tomorrow which are Sonja's do not beckon, she has had her share of Yesterdays.

Top Weight For 'Biscuit'

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16 (AP)—Topping the list at five pounds over scale, Seabiscuit drew 134 pounds when weights were announced late for the 107 candidates for the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap March 4, 1939.

Rated just behind Charles S. Howard's Seabiscuit was Maxwell Howard's Stakehand, the surprise colt of 1938, which noosed out "Biscuit" in the last $100,000 Santa Anita classic. Stakehand was handed 128 pounds, even weight for the scale for coming 4-year-olds.

4 School Ice Contests At Arena

Moving into the first night session in the schoolboy hockey season, the Eastern Massachusetts League takes over the ice at the Arena tonight for the usual four-game program, which should find Dedham and Malden—deadlocked for top honors—stealing the spotlight.

In the other three games, Hudson meets Brookline, Somerville battles Natick, while defending champion, Brockton, third sextet in the first place tie, faces off against Lexington.

Be tipping over a favored Brookline outfit last week, Dedham enjoys a slight advantage over Malden. Coach Nick DeSalvo has probably the strongest defensive club in the circuit, with Ernie Weidul and John Podolski on the points and Larry Armour in the nets.

This trio looked especially powerful against the Wealthy Towners and should do as well against the Golden Tornado.

SHERLOCK BIG HELP

Coach Charlie McGeech's boys have improved immensely since the opening of the season. Ralph Hatch, Hugo Carozza and Goalie Fred Sherlock have given the team a much needed balance.

Brockton, hitting payoff dirt for the first time last week, landed in first place in the standings and should maintain its position against twit-tied Lexington.

Johnny Cappel, Ed Clinton and Dan Buckley give the Stone City Club one of the best starting lines in the loop. This trio is bound to cause the Lexington defenses a lot of trouble.

Coach Arnold Nichols' club is undefeated in its two games and may turn in an upset. With Capt. Dick Nevins and Ken Bobbins on the ice, the Minutemen are always a threat to turn the tables on any of the entries.

Coach Eucky Bates of Brookline will present a changed lineup in the game against Hudson, most important of which will find Johnny Gallagher exchanging his wing post with Leo Gully, former defenseman.

LOST TO MALDEN

Hudson lost to Malden last week, when Will Morgan was injured and forced to retire to the sidelines. With Morgan back in the drapes, this game promises all the thrill of a championship battle, as both clubs are still very much in the running for the league title.

Coach Ed Lanigan is confident that his team will hit its true pace against Natick. Somerville has improved greatly in its practice sessions this week and may come through with its first victory of the campaign.

Coach Charlie McManus will welcome Doug Feich to the Natick lineup.
